Mizak Wins SC Presidency

In an election that showed a student response of less than 500 votes, Frank Mizak walked away with the election for president of the Student Council held earlier this week. Phil Organ ran for vice-president on the same ticket as Mizak and won the second seat with 155 votes. Mizak is known on campus for his work in the creation of the SC constitution.

This was the second election for a Council president within the past two weeks. The first election was declared unconstitutional and the ballots were destroyed.

At a regular Student Council meeting that was called by the Council president on April 22, two amendments were proposed to the Council constitution at that session. There were no candidates running for president that had the necessary Q.P.R. for the post. One amendment proposed that the Q.P.R. of the president be lowered to 2.35. The second proposed that the Q.P.R. of the class representatives be lowered from 2.2 to 2.0.

At the SC's regular meeting the following Wednesday the amendments were voted upon. The first amendment for the lowering of the president's Q.P.R. passed with the necessary two thirds majority vote for approval. However, the second amendment fell short of approval vote. The elections for the president were then held on Monday and Tuesday of this week. Elections for the student representatives will take place on May 9 and 10.

The SC's action to amend its constitution came about because of the influence of a student petition that was circulated around campus declaring the SC's previous action to let the candidates run for office without formally amending the constitution as illegal. The petition was never presented to the Council.

Directors Tour Audio-Visual Facilities Here

A tour of the new audio-visual facilities in Dana Hall was made by 25 Connecticut audio-visual directors last week.

A series of seminar sessions highlighted the tour. Dr. Carlton Erickson, audio-visual director at the University of Connecticut showed a film and spoke on teaching machines. A seminar on article writing for audio-visual magazines was given by Prof. Howard Jacobson, chairman of the department of journalism, and a talk on newspaper writing and style was given by Patrick Palloto, editor of the Bridgeport Sunday Post.

The new facilities shown include two darkrooms, a student film workshop, an equipment repair room, storage rooms, a film tape and disc library, the director's office and a film preview room.

IFC Proposes New Pledging Regulations

Proposals were introduced at a recent meeting which would greatly alter the present pledging system, the IFC reported.

Skip Persson, chairman of the IFC pledge committee, recommended:

1. An extension of pledging to a full semester;
2. Ineligibility of any freshman to pledge a fraternity. Sororities were not included in this proposal;
3. Organization of a Pan-Hellenic Council on campus, under the jurisdiction of the IFC.

The IFC Pledge Committee chairman wanted two fraternity pledge classes each year, but it was felt that full semester pledging would divide the pledges into cliques and would be a dividing factor in the fraternity, George H. Stanley, IFC advisor, commented.

Stanley reported that a spring semester initiation of the pledge class would conflict with final exams and other social activities.

Action on the proposals has been postponed until the next meeting.

Trager Wins Typewriter With Speech On Gambling

Mark Trager, a junior majoring in industrial design, won first prize in the thirteenth annual public speaking contest held last Wednesday evening in Dana Hall. Trager spoke on gambling being made legal and won an Underwood portable typewriter.

Second Prize, a Parker 61 pen, was awarded to Eugene Conroy, a sophomore majoring in industrial relations, whose topic was "The Communist Case". The third prize winner was Roger La Forte, a sophomore majoring in industrial design, who spoke on "The American Waste of Leisure"; he won a book entitled "A Treasury of Great American Speeches."

The speech contest is sponsored by the English Department under the direction of Dr. Norman Reid, chairman, and Prof. William Banks.

The typewriter was donated by the Underwood corporation, the pen and pencil set donated by Spector's Inc., 1112 Main street, and the book was donated by the Open Book Shop, 1006 Broad street.

Judges for the finals were Miss Mary Murray, director of speech at Harding High School, and John McFarland, assistant superintendent, Bridgeport public school system.

Wisteria Ball Features Flanagan

The University's annual Wisteria Weekend begins tomorrow night, with the festive Wisteria Ball, at which a new Wisteria Queen will be crowned. Music will be supplied by Ralph Flanagan, and dress is formal.

The finalists for the title of Wisteria Queen are Barbara Brown, a senior majoring in advertising; Barbara Gregory, a senior majoring in secondary education; Barbara Nalepa, a senior also majoring in secondary education; Theresa Pilarski, a senior majoring in retailing; Judith Resnick, a senior majoring in elementary education; Jean Taylor, a senior majoring in elementary education; and Paula Thieroff, a sophomore majoring in fashion merchandising.

The finalists were chosen at a tea held in Wisteria Hall last Sunday. The faculty committee of judges was Mr. and Mrs. Vic Muniec, Ross B. Baxter, Bridgeport Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. Doenges, wife of Richard C. Doenges of the English department; Olive W. Wright, Cooper Hall residence counselor; and Nicholas A. Panuzio, assistant director of admissions.

Fraternities and sororities will be holding individual functions during this weekend.

Science Wall Unveiled May 8

Unveiling ceremonies for the Science Wall of Honor at the University will take place on May 8, opening an eight-day program of dedication activities for the Charles A. Dana Hall of Science.

Twenty-five "Immortals of Science" selected by 1,116 electors from 49 foreign countries and every state in the United States have their names inscribed on the Science Wall of Honor.

The "Immortals" were selected for their basic contributions to the fund of man's knowledge.

Bern Dibner, founder of the Burndy Library, chairman of the board of Burndy Corp., a trustee of the University and chairman of the policy committee of the Science Wall of Honor will preside at the unveiling ceremonies. Members of the Parents' Council of the University will also take part in the opening program. Scientists whose names are inscribed upon the Science Wall of Honor, listed in chronological order include: Hippocrates, 460-357 B.C.; Aristotle, 384-322 B.C.; Euclid, 330-275 B.C.; Archimedes, 287-212 B.C.; Leonardo da Vinci, 1452-1519; Nicholas Copernicus, 1473-1543; Galileo Galilei, 1564-1642; Johannes Kepler, 1571-1630.

Also Sir William Harvey, 1578-1657; Rene Descartes, 1596-1650; Robert Boyle, 1627-1691; Sir Isaac Newton, 1642-1727; Joseph Priestley, 1733-1804; Antoine Laurent Lavoisier, 1743-1794; Karl Friedrich Gauss, 1777-1855; Michael Faraday, 1791-1867.

Also, Charles R. Darwin, 1809-1882; Gregor J. Mendel, 1822-1884; Louis Pasteur, 1822-1895; James C. Maxwell, 1831-1879; Robert Koch, 1843-1910; Wilhelm K. Roentgen, 1845-1923; Max K.E. L. Planck, 1858-1947; Maria Sklodowska Curie, 1867-1934; and Lord Ernest Rutherford, 1871-1937.

University Faculty Salaries Below National Average

The average base salary of a full-time faculty member at the University is slightly below the national average, Vice President Henry W. Littlefield announced this week, but added that it is quite important not to confuse the base salary with the actual salary and other benefits a faculty member receives.

A recent release from the American Council of Education cited a figure of $6,510 as the average base salary of a full-time faculty member in a private institution, a 14.2 percent increase over 1957-58. Dr. Littlefield states that the average full-time faculty salary at the University is in excess of $6,000, but probably somewhat below the national average quoted by the Council's release.

Dr. Littlefield emphasized that faculty members receive a number of benefits to supplement salary. The Ford Foundation pays each full-time member an average of $120, he said, and the Parents' Fund adds about $40 to the faculty member's yearly salary. The University also pays for a $55 major medical insurance policy for the faculty member, and allows him up to six units of insurance worth $12 a unit. Dr. Littlefield reported.

The vice-president reminded too that the University donates 5 percent of the base salary of a full time faculty member toward a pension fund, and 3 percent toward Social Security, with the faculty member paying an equal amount from his salary.

Last week's tuition announcement by the vice-president indicated that approximately half of every dollar paid toward tuition goes toward faculty salaries. Tuition next year at the University will rise to $700 a year, from $650, an increase of 7.7 percent over 1959. By comparison the national tuition average in private institutions is $615, an increase of 16.9 percent over 1957-58. Room and board will be $775 for all resident students on campus, an increase of $25 for women and $125 for men. The national room and board average is $651 for women, in private institutions, and $602 for men.

Council Should Inform Us; Claim Interviewed Students

Questions for this week's NSA Inquirer were asked by Jerry Barasche, a sophomore majoring in history; Ron Brill, a sophomore majoring in industrial design; Paul Buhar, a freshman education major; Cindy Gelbard, a sophomore majoring in education; and Adele Silberman, a sophomore majoring in education.

DO YOU FEEL THAT THE STUDENT COUNCIL IS ADEQUATELY INFORMING YOU ABOUT ISSUES CONCERNING THE STUDENT BODY? WHAT SPECIFIC SUGGESTIONS WOULD YOU GIVE TO IMPROVE THE SITUATION?

ALAN NEWMAN, a junior majoring in music education and a member of the band, orchestra, and A Cappella Choir replied, "There is no real contact between the Student Council and the student body. Adequate information to the student is only given on issues that are of major importance to the Student Council, such as the recent ratification of the constitution and the student elections."

"There should be a bulletin board in Alumni Hall posting the minutes of the meetings and mimeographed copies should be available to every student. Meetings should be announced more widely."

PHOEBE GELFORD, a sophomore majoring in education and a member of Women's House Government stated, "Quite frankly, no. I as a dorm student found out too often that I had missed out on an important event that occurred. This was due simply to the fact that there was an insufficient amount of communication to the student.

"I recommend posting the Student Council minutes on the main bulletin boards, such as in the Library, Alumni Hall, and especially in each dormitory."

DAVID SIMPSON, a junior majoring in history and a member of the Political Relations Forum feels, "No and there is definitely a lack of issues concerning the student. We can hardly expect the Council to inform the student body about issues that don't exist and if there are some, the student body and council are not interested enough in them to act. For instance, the current election seems to be a battle between personalities rather than a battle of abilities."

MARGARET DONAN, a junior majoring in education, stated, "No, I am not very well informed about Student Council. The Scribe can be one way, but bulletin boards can give us more in-

Svendsen Gets Scholarship; Will Study at Howard U.

Kjell Svendsen, a senior majoring in foreign language, has been awarded a National Defense Education Act Scholarship worth $3,000 for the study of Swahili, anthropology and sociology at Howard University, Washington, D. C.

Swahili is the language of some 40,000,000 Africans. Svendsen expects to earn a Master's degree in African studies. He plans to go to Africa to complete his thesis.

Svendsen was born in Norway and came to the United States nine years ago. He now teaches French and German in a Greenwich high school, and Norwegian at the Berlitz school in Greenwich. He can speak French, German, English and Norwegian fluently, and has studied Spanish and Latin.

In addition to this, he is organist and teaches religion at Stanford Gospel Tabernacle Church.

At the University, Svendsen is a dean's list student and president of the German Club.

Svendsen hopes to teach at UCLA following his Howard studies and eventually go to Africa. He has already made one trip to Africa, working his way on a ship in 1957.

Svendsen's fiancée, Anne Vartun of Norway, has been living in the U. S. for a year. They plan to be married in Norway this summer.

Thorpe Sets New England Record

by Marty Riger

The Knights suffered their second loss last Saturday when they met Fairleigh-Dickinson in a Tri-state league game at Seaside Park. The final score was 6-2 in favor of the New Jersey club.

Because of arm trouble Ralph Papazian was making his first start of the year. Bill Pollack started on the mound for FDU. Fairleigh-Dickinson drew blood in the first inning, when Frank Caci walked, went to second on a passed ball and scored on Frank Gilbert's single to center.

The Knights tied the score in

the third inning when Rich Dimuro got on base on a fielder's choice and scored on "Dooley" Thorpe's double to right center. FDU came back in the fourth inning to score two runs. The run producing hit was Caci's single to left field. Matt "Old Warhorse" Kaishian came into the game at that time to put out the fire.

The 'D' men countered in their half of the fourth with one run as Rick Follman walked, stole second, and scored on Tom Celestino's single. This closed out the scoring for the Purple Knights.

Tom McCarthy worked the last two innings for UB and pitched very well, striking out four and not allowing any hits. Thorpe's two hits extended his streak to 23 consecutive games over a two year period. This is a New England collegiate baseball record. It seems that "Dooley" received a mysterious letter from a man by the name of Joe 'D' and this Joe 'D' told our little mighty mite to take it easy. "Dooley" just threw out that jaw of his and said "O. K., Joe."

Catcher Bob Darula has had a great season so far. He is hitting .520, has 18 RBI's, 5 doubles, 3 triples and 2 home runs. Not bad for an old man.

The team started off very well winning their first seven games, but injuries and acts of God have taken their toll of the squad. The team has been saddened by the passing away of Ralph King's mother and Bob Budd's father.

Starter Bob Laemel of basketball fame has left the team for the season after suffering an attack of appendicitis. Bob was hitting .500 before fate took a hand. The second bad break occurred when team captain and third baseman, Johnny Giampaolo, pulled a muscle in his thigh. Johnny 'G' missed two games before returning to the lineup and his thigh still gives him some trouble.

These injuries have caused Coach 'D' to do a little juggling, a la Casey Stengel, and it has turned out very well. Playing before a big home crowd is an asset to any team, so I, on behalf of the squad, would like to see you all out at Seaside Park for our big home stand.

UB Sailing Champions Lose Title

by Pauline Ellis

The Arnold College division of the University was represented by a sailing team composed of Pauline Ellis and Roberta Toll in the annual Northeastern Inter-collegiate Sailing Championships held April 23 at Brown University in Providence, R. I. The girls attempted to duplicate their victory by regaining the title they had won two years ago. Due to unfortunate circumstances, Connecticut College for Women captured the title and were followed in order by Bridgeport, Pembroke, Mount Holyoke, Wheaton, Radcliffe, Bradford Junior College, Wellesly, Boston University, Rhode Island School of Design and Vassar.

Eight races were sailed in a near calm accompanied by damp rainy weather. After the third race Connecticut College took the lead in the most total points accumulated and Bridgeport appeared second. The other entries continued in competition as the Connecticut College maintained their one two positions until the final race. At the onset of the final race Bridgeport was four points behind the leaders.

As the starting gun time came near for the final contest, Bridgeport approached the starting line first. Only six seconds before the start, six boats including Connecticut College, ran down the starting line, a very obvious infraction of the rules, thus colliding with Bridgeport's boat and forcing it into a position off the wind and way below the first course marker.

Due to this major foul, UB's entry finished in sixth place. Immediately a protest was made but appeared of worthless significance, since the race committee had deserted its duties to observe crew races. It was strongly emphasized by the fouling entries that they should have been disqualified, which would have led to the University's victory and championship.

With only a few weeks remaining and all of those papers due, everyone needs to take a break, but there's still a need for more softball teams in the intramural program. Remember there is a chance for your team to earn enough points from participation and winning to receive one of those W.A.A. award trophies. Beta Gamma, the recipient of last year's Participation Trophy, is in the lead again and making a gallant effort to retain it, while Chaffee 2nd is fast moving toward capture of the Championship Trophy. See the softball manager, Bonnie Maslowski on Cooper 2nd, and get your team out there.

Girls from the University

W.A.A. will participate in a sports day for all colleges in this area to be held at Central Connecticut State College in New Britain. Activities will include softball and tennis. There is still an opportunity for any interested girls. The date is May 7th and it'll be held from 9:30 a.m. to 2:00 p.m.

Our Women's Athletic Association was represented at an Annual Meeting for all eastern members held at the University of Connecticut last week end.

There will be a track meet for girls and women on May 14 in Seaside Park. Our W.A.A. has recently purchased new equipment for track and field and it is available to any girls who would like to use it. Last year our University was well represented in this annual track meet and gained first place in just about every event. Entry blanks may be obtained at the Gym.

Next week the Scribe will be distributed at the All-University Breakfast, Wednesday a. m.

formation. An excellent student spirit booster would be open rallies where these issues — pro and con — could be discussed among large portions of the student body. These rallies might be in the afternoon when the students don't have classes. To inform the students of these rallies, we might pass out handbills or have people walking around with posters, because the posters around the campus serve only to confuse you and don't get anything across.

DAVID SMITH, a junior majoring in industrial design replied, "I don't have time to keep up with the issues so I don't know."

"Perhaps we could have a bulletin board outside Alumni Hall which the I.D. department could design and which would be a permanent specific location where students could get information about Student Council proceedings."

LAURENCE ECKSTEIN, a junior majoring in secondary education, stated, "Up until now the students have been fairly well informed about campus activities, but because of the absence of adequate social activities on the weekends especially, students have become more apathetic. The Student Council has done a great deal, but could do more to improve the circulation of information. For instance, the Council could appoint students to take extensive surveys on student issues and the students should back these proposals."

INTRAMURALS

The final playoff of the Intramural Basketball Championship was won by the Knights over SPA by a score of 53-46.

Leading scorer of the game was Tom Shea of SPA with 21 points. Top men for the Knights were Peter Sbrillinni and William Marshall with 20 points each. The Knights led at half-time 28-23.

Along Park Place

by Ron Miller

The girls have been selected for the finalists for the WISTARIA BALL reign and final plans are being completed for the grand and glorious Spring annual which capitalizes the Spring social season. The various fraternities and sororities are finishing up their plans for the big weekend and alumni reunions which various groups combine at this time. The music will be provided by Ralph Flanagan and his well known "big band", and the place will be the Ritz Ballroom in Black Rock. Friday night will be the scene of not only the Ball, but uncountable cocktail parties before and after the gala formal affair. Gowns, Tux, flowers, empty corsage boxes (how come everyone saves empty corsage boxes and brings them to the dance?) will be the talk of the evening, and some lucky, attractive femme will be chosen as the WISTARIA QUEEN . . . '60. Reserve those tables and we'll see you at the Ball.

Miss Sima Susswein, Chaffee Third and a frosh miss (but not for long), is affianced to Ed Silver, a grad of Rutgers University.

The brothers of Sigma Phi Alpha announce their new officers for the coming year. Dick Moss, president; John Koch, vice-president; Ron Verrilly, treasurer; Jerry Patrick, recording secretary; Bill Everett, corresponding secretary; and Mathew Onuska, sgt.-at-arms. The boys are now busily planning their annual weekend which always has been one of the biggest at the University, and plans are under-way for the Cotton-Ball-Capers for next year.

The Inter-Fraternity Council also has a slate for a weekend that is coming up fast. The weekend following WISTARIA is the annual IFC WEEKEND. The weekend will be a two day affair this year, and will begin on (Monday for some) and Saturday for the most. The picnic Sunday will be the crowning glory of the weekend, (as it always is) and president Walt Londergan promises that those little houses will not be rocking this year . . . girls . . . take advantage of this, and make sure that your date takes you to the picnic. There will be a Greek Letter Queen chosen on Saturday night at the talent show. Your candidate will have the following qualifications: Beauty, Talent, and Personality. See Frank Forni and Jeannie Richens for full particulars about this weekend. See Walt Londergan for written affidavits of that promise he made. More about the weekend next week.

Now that everything is relatively back to normal in the Student Council and the candidates are being kept busy with their campaigns, it's time to remember to get out there and vote again. This should be a habit by now with most of you, as that seems to be all that we're doing lately.

Well, we're back to that old list again this week. There seems to be another tie for first place which makes things difficult. Pushing hard for the first slot are Ralph Howe and Joe Gavin. This is a tough choice but we seem to think that Joe should have the edge over Ralph . . . though not by much. Joe was nominated for his marathon at the Seawall and his standing guard at the phone booth which was reserved especially for him. He was known to page himself four times calling . . . "Phone call for Joe Gavin", while Joe and Moose duelled with french fried swords. Welcome to the top of the heap, Joe. Ralph was anonymously nominated for his great golf matches that he has been turning in lately. A West named Al has hinted that Ralph might have been hit again with that little cherub's arrow. Good luck with that next to the top slot, Ralph.
